

FATE CARD

FATE CARD

During the First World War, Royal Army Medical Corps Medical Officers had to be under 30 years old and at least 5'2" (1.57m) tall.

R.A.M.C.

FATE CARD

FATE CARD

The Royal Army Medical Corps is a non-fighting arm of the British Army. Still, during the First World War, 742 officers and 6,130 soldiers of the corps were killed.

R.A.M.C.

FATE CARD

FATE CARD

After enlisting to the RAMC, officers trained for 6 months at RAMC Depot, Aldershot, before proceeding to specialist training.

R.A.M.C.

FATE CARD

FATE CARD

At peak times of battle, your CCS overflows with wounded soldiers. Process 2 patients before the next team take their turn.

R.A.M.C.

FATE CARD

FATE CARD

We must work faster to get through the patients to ensure their survival. Process 1 more patient before the next team takes their turn.

R.A.M.C.

FATE CARD

FATE CARD

The Germans have located your CCS and are on their way to bomb the site. You must move the hospital - miss a go.

R.A.M.C.

FATE CARD

FATE CARD

The train line to the Base Hospital has been bombed. The last 2 patients you dealt with have died. Remove their treatment from your list.

R.A.M.C.

FATE CARD

FATE CARD

Keep this card until you are told to stop playing. This card entitles you to add 20 seconds onto your opponents' final time.

R.A.M.C.